

SAVE THE DATE

Monday, July 11, 2016 9:00am-4:00pm

EMERGING INVASIVE SPECIES IN THE MID-ATLANTIC

Topics:

Federal Efforts on Early Detection

Hilary Smith, Invasive Species Coordinator, U.S. Department of the Interior

Biocontrols for invasive plants: current research and recent approvals

Bob Tichenor, USDA APHIS

Invasive plant pathogens affecting native woody plants

David Clement, Maryland Extension Service

MAEDN app update and use

Chuck Barger, Center for Invasive Species & Ecosystem Health, University of Georgia

Wavyleaf basketgrass research

Vanessa Beauchamp, Towson University

Invasive Insects

Mary Kay Malinoski, Maryland
Extension Service

National Wildlife Visitor Center, Patuxent Research Refuge
Laurel, Maryland

Registration:

www.eddmaps.org/midatlantic/workshop2016.cfm

Workshop sponsored by:

Maryland Extension Service; Mid Atlantic Early Detection Network; Mid-Atlantic Invasive Plant Council; University of Georgia, Center for Invasive Species and Ecosystem Health